Timothy Milos, Winemaker

Timothy Milos is the winemaker at RD Winery, which takes a more inclusive approach to the Napa Valley wine experience. Dedicated to producing terroir-driven wines for the past 20 years, he uses traditional winemaking techniques and a minimalist method to reveal the distinctions of each unique wine. Tim has received impressive accolades throughout his career, scoring 90+ on well over 120 wines, placing in the Top 100 Wines of the Year several times, and receiving 100 points from Robert Parker of Wine Advocate and Jeb Dunnuck for his 2013 and 2016 Impassable Mountain Cabernets, respectively.

Previously, Tim interned at Stag's Leap Wine Cellars, was the research enologist at Opus One, and winemaker for S. Anderson and for Cliff Lede. In 2004, he began consulting for wineries in Napa Valley and Sonoma County. He studied cell biology and biochemistry at Sonoma State, enology and viticulture at UC Davis, and was involved in plant genome mapping at the USDA.
